Project Learning Tree (PLT), Project WILD, and Project WET were designed to provide students with concepts, skills, and attitudes in environmental education. Students learn these things best when these activities are integrated into the curriculum, rather than taught as isolated activities. This worksheet is designed to help you think about how you will apply PLT, Project WILD, or Project WET to your existing curriculum.

1. The unit in which I could begin integrating PLT, WILD, or WET activities is:

2. List the skills or concepts you would like your class to learn from this unit. Then, for each skill or concept listed, select several appropriate PLT, WILD, or WET activities.
